Arts Project Australia

This is an Easy Read resource about getting a job at Arts Project Australia

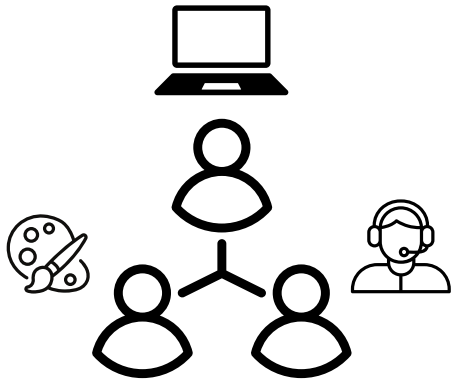

Arts Project Australia sometimes has jobs available.

People who apply for these jobs need to have the right experience.

They should also want to support artists with intellectual disabilities.

There are many different jobs at Arts Project Australia.

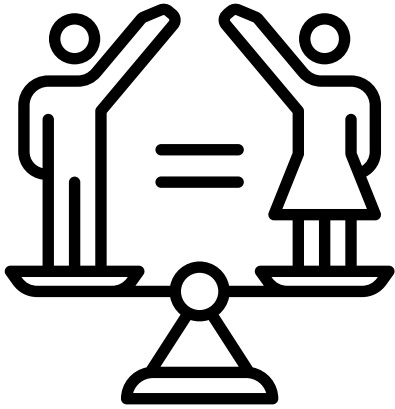

Some people work in the studio.

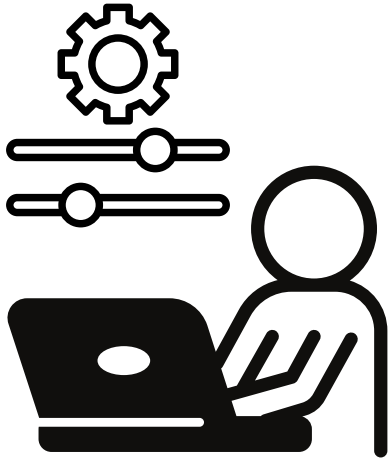

Some people work in the gallery

But everyone works together to support the artists.

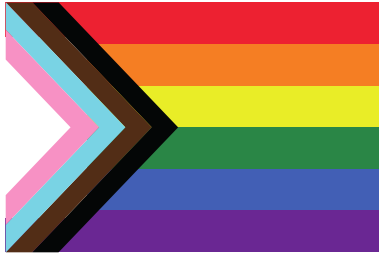

Arts Project Australia is an Equal Opportunity employer.

This means we understand some people might need adjustments to a job so they can work.

This might be because of their cultural background or race.

This might be because of their gender or sexuality.

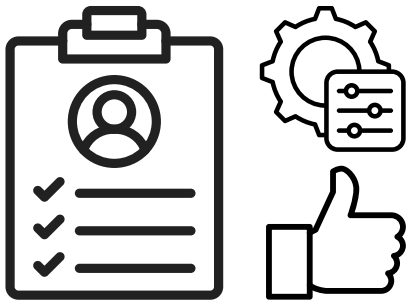

This might be because they are a carer or parent.

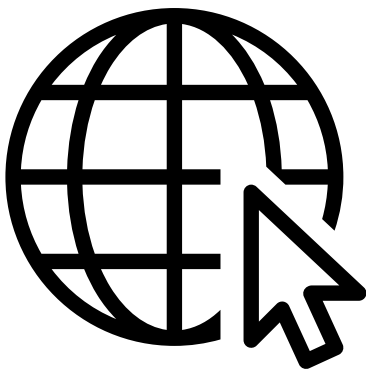

This might be because they have a disability.

Or they might have a few of these and other life experiences that mean they need job adjustments.

We will consider job adjustments for people who have the right experience.
