a different view

Curated by Paul Hodges,

5 July - 9 August

Landscape: A Different View invites you to explore the world through a range of artistic perspectives that reimagine our relationship with place.

This group exhibition brings together a diverse collection of works by Arts Project Australia artists that blend the energy of urban life with the calm of rural settings, challenging traditional ideas of landscape. Each artist offers a unique lens, transforming familiar environments into compelling narratives. From structured cityscapes to organic natural forms, the works reflect the fluid, ever-changing nature of the world around us.

Celebrating difference in vision, style, and experience, the exhibition reveals that landscapes are not fixed—they are shaped by how we see and feel them. Together, these works form a shared vision: one that encourages us to look beyond the surface, embrace multiple viewpoints, and discover beauty in all environments.

Featuring Paul Hodges, Michael Trasancos, Robyn Doherty, Georgia Szmerling, Steven Perrette, Miles Howard-Wilks, Christian Hansen, Anne Lynch, John Bates, Samantha Ashdown, James MacSporran, Katherine Foster, Lygin Ang, William Murray, Peter Ben, Spenser Coombe, Jakob Demirel and Mark Patterson.
