29 AUGUST - 10 OCTOBER 2015

Opening Saturday 29 August, The Devil's in the Detail will showcase a solo exhibition by Lisa Reid of painting, drawing, printmaking, ceramics and digital media spanning 15 years.

Curated by Sim Luttin, Gallery Manager & Curator at Arts Project Australia, Lisa Reid: The Devil's in the Detail will include over 60 artworks and is supported by a full-colour Leonard Joel Series catalogue that features an essay by Melbourne-based writer Dylan Rainforth.

Each year, Arts Project presents a major solo exhibition by a prominent, long standing artist from its Northcote studio. Lisa Reid joined the studio at Arts Project in 2000 and since then, she has shown extensively both nationally and internationally, making a significant contribution to the contemporary art landscape.

Reid is a multi-media figurative artist. She collects and reinterprets images of people that she sources from photographs magazines and newspapers. Exhibition curator Sim Luttin says, "Lisa Reid's dedicated approach to her practice, combined with a genuine curiosity for subjects from all walks of life, makes her a consummate artist. Her intention is clear and her process and methods are bold. Over the past fifteen years, Reid has honed a distinctive style and has developed a keen eye for detail, which has allowed her to create slightly abstracted, playful artworks that are free from the restrictions of purely representational forms".

The Devil's in the Detail is made up of works from the artist's collection held at Arts Project, as well as from private collections from across Australia, including a selection from the private collection of renowned art collector Peter Fay. Executive Director Sue Roff says that, "Lisa Reid's solo exhibition The Devil's in the Detail is a significant exhibition by one of Melbourne's most dedicated, meticulous artists".

The exhibition will be opened by John Albrecht, Managing Director & Proprietor at Leonard Joel and will run until Saturday 10 October 2015.

Lisa Reid is available for interview. High-resolution images are available on request and Lisa Reid can be photographed with her work. Lisa Reid: The Devil's in the Detail will be featured at Arts Project Australia from Saturday 29 August – 10 October 2015 at 24 High St Northcote VIC 3070. The gallery is open Monday – Friday 9am-5pm, Saturday 10am-5pm.
